

A training program for human potential development, creativity expression and social authority - conceived for a wide target group.

Results:

The better humans get along with the own personality and the surrounding field using the personal abilities the more magnetism and ability is available and so much better it is possible to arrange a fulfilled life.

Each vocational or material success depends apart from the technical qualifications particularly on functioning personal authority as well as private and health well-being depends substantially on these factors.

The ets-method ® shows how to use Universal Law for the development of your own potentials and authority. Practical and easily applicable knowledge, exercises and tips for the stabilization of your personal potentials, social authority and expression of your creativity – especially in your daily life.

Who should attend?

- Anyone who wants to develop the own potentials in vocational and private life
- Humans who see their future in the constantly growing training and consulting range and want a qualified education
- Consultants and Manager who want a further training and qualification

What to expect?

- The ets-method ® works with all human potentials: physic, mental, emotional and spirituel potentials.
- These elements become experientable and understandable by making experiences by doing.
- The center of attention is not only the theoretical knowledge but that fundamental abilities can be converted fast into the practice as well.
- There is no limit in using the ets-method ®.
- Your abilities are constantly expandable.
- Practice in peergroups and supervision.
